Michael:

I reviewed the new employee on-line survey and thought it was good, however I am a bit disturbed that something on the agency's Aeronautics research is not being discussed in the Videos and computer-based training provided through the NEO portal. I understand that the agency's priority is the President's Exploration Vision, however the agency continues to make valuable contributions to NASA's and the nations's rich legacy in Aeronautics. I hope that something on Aeronautics can be added before the portal goes "live". Please feel free to contact me at your convenience if you have any questions or concerns. Thanks.
